

for many years purposely kept out of the market in order to allow their value to increase; but in January, 1888, a number of sections were offered for sale at several points in the province, when 19,986 acres were disposed of for the sum of $140,189, being an average of about $7 per acre; in January, 1892, 53,030 acres were sold by auction, and realized $421,518, being an average of $7.95 per acre, and again in January and February, 1893, 12,603 acres were disposed of for the sum of $89,505, or an average price of $7.10 per acre.

1572. The progress of education in Manitoba has been very rapid, as the following figures show. The figures previous to 1890 are for Protestant schools only:—

In 1894 there were 744 school-houses in the province, of which 627 were frame, 37 brick, 11 stone, and 69 log. The number of trees planted was 2,223.

1573. The school age is 5 to 16 years, inclusive, and from the above table it will be seen that the average attendance was 50 per cent, while the proportion of the population at school was 1 in 58. Figures such as these not only demonstrate the wonderful progress of the province during the last 20 years, but must effectually dissipate any ideas that intending settlers might have about the difficulty there would be in educating their children, and must convince them that life on the prairies does not mean life without the most important benefits of civilization. Collegiate departments for more advanced education are attached to the public schools at Winnipeg and Brandon, and the total number of pupils enrolled during the year was 502 and 137 respectively. There is also a Normal School in Winnipeg, for the training of teachers.
