

Auxiliary Services.—The auxiliary postal services—the issuing of money orders (including postal notes) and the facilities offered by the Post Office savings banks—have expanded enormously since Confederation. In 1868, for example, there were 515 money order offices in operation, issuing orders to an amount of $3,342,574. In 1927 the number of offices had increased to 5,797, while the value of orders issued was more than 50 times as large as in the earlier year. In the following tables, illustrating the use of money orders and postal notes, it will also be noticed that the large number of 15,760,994 money orders, representing a value of $188,219,777, was issued during 1927. The number of postal notes received and paid was 7,197,896, with a value of $16,183,119. It may be added that postal notes are issued payable to bearer and are in general use for the transfer of small sums, while money orders, on the other hand, are payable to order at a designated post office. Statistical tables showing the operation of the Post Office savings banks and the Dominion Government savings banks since Confederation are included in the section on Finance. (See pp. 880-1).
