Juvenile Immigrants.—Among the most generally acceptable immigrant arrivals are the juveniles of both sexes who have been trained by highly accredited British organizations for Canadian life before coming to Canada, the boys being taught the lighter branches of farm work, and the girls instructed in domestic occupations. On arrival in Canada the boys are placed on farms, while the girls are placed either in town or country, but the organizations remain the guardians of the children until they have reached maturity, and in addition the children are subject to efficient and recurrent government inspection until they reach their nineteenth year. This inspection is under the control of the Supervisor of Juvenile Immigration.

Under the British Empire Settlement Agreement the term "children" is now applied to boys from 14 to 19 years of age and girls from 14 to 17 migrating to Canada under provincial or approved society auspices. These organizations have been assisted by the Oversea Settlement Agreement, which provides free transportation for the boys and girls from the British Isles migrating to Canada under their auspices. Juvenile immigrants of this type totalled 4,033 boys and 248 girls in the fiscal year ended Mar. 31, 1930.
