Section 2.—Motor Vehicle Acts and Regulations.¹

In all provinces each person who operates a car must be licensed as a chauffeur, an operator, or a beginner. Chauffeurs must be 18 years of age or over (in Saskatchewan chauffeur's licences are granted to persons between 16 and 18 years of age but such applicants must pass a special examination), and other drivers 16 years of age or over in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In Quebec all drivers of cars must be at least 18 years of age and in Ontario all drivers between 16 and 18 years of age, as well as those operating as chauffeurs for hire, must qualify for and hold chauffeur's licences. In British Columbia no person under 17 years of age may drive a motor vehicle, except that a person between 15 and 17 years of age may obtain a special permit upon application of the parent or guardian and after passing a special examination; no chauffeur under 21 years of age may operate a motor vehicle carrying passengers for hire unless he is the holder of a special permit — there are three classes of chauffeur's licences. In the Yukon Territory no male under 16 and no female under 18 years of age may drive a motor vehicle.

The following is a brief synopsis of the regulations in force in each province.

Prince Edward Island.—Under the Highway Traffic Act, 1930, and regulations, all cars must be registered in the office of the Provincial Secretary. In addition to a registration fee of $2.50 for cars not previously registered in the province and a marker fee of $1, an annual tax of 70 cents per 100 pounds weight is payable on Mar. 1, but is not required of non-residents if the province or State of origin grants exemptions to Prince Edward Island privately owned passenger motor
