Table 15 is a record of industrial disputes, by provinces, for the years 1931 and 1932. In 1931, the chief time loss was in British Columbia where strikes of some magnitude occurred involving sawmill workers employed by firms operating on the Pacific coast and where masters, mates and marine engineers were involved in a prolonged dispute. A large time loss, however, was recorded in Ontario also, due chiefly to strikes of clothing factory workers in Toronto. In 1932 the chief time loss was in Alberta, due to strikes of coal miners; in British Columbia, chiefly in sawmills; and in Ontario owing to a number of strikes of loggers in the northern part and of fur workers in Toronto.
