

Government Aid to Private Railways.—In order that the private railways of Canada might be constructed in advance of settlement, as colonization roads or through thinly settled districts where little traffic was available, it was necessary for Dominion, Provincial and even municipal governments to extend some form of assistance. In our earlier history, when our governments had plenty of Crown land and little cash, the subsidies granted to railways frequently took the form of land grants, which had the advantage of giving the railway a direct interest in opening up the country, though they sometimes led to the railways holding large tracts of land idle for speculative purposes when intermixed Crown lands had been homesteaded, thus retarding the settlement of agricultural land. Table 13 shows the areas of the land granted as subsidies and for right of way, station grounds and townsite purposes to steam railway companies by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, with the names of the companies in the case of the Dominion Government. The total area granted up to Dec. 31, 1933, amounted to 47,405,719.53 acres.

As the country grew wealthier, the objections to the land-grant method became more apparent, and aid was more frequently given in the form of a cash subsidy per mile of line, a loan, or a subscription to the shares of the railway. From 1851 up to Dec. 31, 1933, as shown analytically in Table 14, the total value of such aid granted to steam railways in Canada, exclusive of the capital of Government railways, amounted to $224,320,757. Of this sum, $177,834,528 was granted by the Dominion Government, $33,385,615 by the Provincial Governments, and $13,100,614 by municipalities. Table 15 records the details of the most recent type of assistance given to private railways, viz., by the guaranteeing of their bonds or of the interest thereupon. These guarantees enabled the railways receiving them to borrow money at rates of interest considerably lower than would otherwise have had to be paid. The total amount outstanding on Dec. 31, 1933, was $900,046,923.
