

Dominion notes are of two types, those in general circulation and those used only in inter-bank transactions, the latter being described as "special" notes. Notes in general circulation are of the denominations 25 cents, $1, $2, $4, $5, $50, $500, $1,000, but for a considerable time no notes of $4 and $50 denominations have been issued. "Special" notes are mainly of $5,000 and $50,000 denominations, $1,000 "specials" being no longer issued. The amounts of each denomination of both types of notes in circulation are given, as at Mar. 31 of each recent year, in Table 7, while Tables 5 and 6 are concerned with gold reserves.
