PART IV.—WATERWAYS.***

Under this heading the statistics relating to shipping, aids to navigation, canals, and harbours are brought together because they are all essential and integral parts of the facilities for water-borne traffic; these facilities work together to promote the expeditious handling of the same freight without transshipment intervening. Under this form of treatment all the facilities for water-borne traffic are first presented, then the cost or other available financial statistics and, finally, figures which give * Information and statistics dealing with the indicated subject have been supplied as follows: aids to navigation, harbours, administrative services, and Government merchant marine, by the Department of Transport; graving docks and part of the financial statistics, by the Department of Public Works; Panama Canal, by the Governor of the Panama Canal Zone; other canal traffic, and statistics of shipping, by the Transportation and Public Utilities Branch, Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
