Table 4 shows the numbers of branches and the reported total membership of Canadian central labour bodies operating in Canada at the close of 1937. At the foot of the table are shown the statistics of the National Catholic and independent unions, thus giving a grand total of all Canadian unions which have no affiliation with the international movement. If these figures are added to the totals of internationally affiliated unions shown in Table 3, the result will correspond to the total labour union membership in Canada as shown on page 788.
