

force of 300 in 1873, it had a strength on Dec. 31, 1938, of 2,591. Its means of transport at that time consisted of 138 horses, 531 motor vehicles, and 405 sleigh dogs and 12 police dogs. The Force is organized into 13 divisions of varying strength distributed over the entire country. The term of engagement is five years for recruits, with re-enlistment for a period not exceeding five years. The Officers are commissioned by the Crown. Recruits are trained at Regina, Sask. The course of training is six months and consists of drill, both mounted and dismounted; physical training, including instruction in wrestling, boxing, and jiu-jitsu. Special attention is paid to police duties, both Dominion and provincial, and detailed lectures are given in these, including court procedure. Instructional courses for promotion are held, and, where practicable, an annual refresher course of training is given.

In 1937, a 'Reserve' strength of 300 men was authorized by Parliament; during the months of July and August, 1937, 300 'Reservists' were given training at Fredericton, N.B., Ottawa, Ont., Regina, Sask., and Vancouver, B.C. In future these 'Reservists' will be the principal source from which recruits for the Force will be drawn. The Reserve now stands at 252.
