Rural and Urban Farm Population.—In distribution of rural farms, Ontario, with 24·2 p.c., had the largest proportion; Quebec was second with 20·9 p.c. Of all persons living on rural farms in Canada in 1941, Quebec had 26·4 p.c., Ontario came second with 22·3 p.c., and Saskatchewan third with 16·5 p.c.

Of the 732,832 farms in the nine provinces, 7,812, or 1·1 p.c., were located within the limits of incorporated cities, towns or villages. The population of 35,527 living on these urban farms represented 1·1 p.c. of the farm population and 0·3 p.c. of the total population of the nine provinces.

Quebec, with 36·1 p.c. of the urban farms and 42·4 p.c. of the urban farm population, had the largest proportion of any province. Ontario had 31·4 p.c. of the urban farms and 27·4 p.c. of the urban farm population. Alberta had 9·2 p.c. of the people living on urban farms and Nova Scotia had 7·1 p.c.
