

Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Quebec. Of the 46,631 resident patients in 1943, 35,515 were insane, 10,135 were mentally deficient, 681 were epileptic and 300 mental cases were otherwise classified.

The number of patients in mental institutions per 100,000 population on Dec. 31, 1943, was 394.8, as compared with 394.2 on the same date of 1942, 392.5 in 1941, 388.0 in 1940, 348.2 in 1935 and 305.4 on June 1, 1931.

Data are not available to indicate to what extent the increasing trend of patients per 100,000 population is due to more complete diagnosis and care than formerly, or to what extent there is an actual increase in the proportion of the population requiring treatment for mental diseases.
