

Police Radio Services.—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police operate 17 radio stations at fixed points, 54 mobile stations, 2 portable stations, 5 aircraft stations and 272 commercial receiving stations throughout the Dominion. The British Columbia Provincial Police operate 27 fixed stations, 10 mobile stations, 7 portable stations, 10 commercial receiving stations and 7 ship stations; the Ontario Provincial Police 42 fixed stations and 261 mobile stations; the Quebec Provincial Police 9 fixed stations and 12 mobile stations. All of these are used to provide liaison between the various units of the Force concerned.

Municipal police radio stations have also been licensed for the purpose of providing communication between various Provincial Police Headquarters and police radio-equipped automobiles in 101 municipalities throughout the Dominion.

Communication with Isolated Points.—Radiotelegraphy and radiotelephony are used throughout the Dominion to provide the means for maintaining contact with isolated points beyond the reach of the regular telegraph and telephone facilities.

Public Utilities, Power and Other Companies.—Radio is used by these bodies to provide emergency telegraph and telephone communication between their power plants and distribution centres, and 561 licences for such stations were issued during 1948, including 120 receiving stations in patrol cars.

Licences were also issued to mining companies throughout the Dominion to cover the operation of 165 radio stations and 37 aircraft radio stations.

Other companies operating aircraft were licensed for 200 ground radio stations and 682 aircraft radio stations (including 30 receiving stations installed in aircraft).
