

Provincial Parks.—In addition to the National Parks already described, most of the provinces have established Provincial Parks. These parks, as in the case of the National Parks, are areas of great scenic or other interest maintained for the benefit of present and future generations. The Provincial Parks are administered by the Provincial Governments concerned and in most cases they have not yet reached the degree of development which marks the National Parks. In Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Manitoba there are no Provincial Parks. Table 3 shows the principal Provincial Parks, by provinces.
