Saskatchewan.—Financial Responsibility Legislation in this Province was placed on the Statutes in 1933 and provides that, where a judgment is rendered in any court in Canada for damages on account of death or injury to any person or on account of damage to property in excess of $50 occasioned by a motor-vehicle and the person fails to satisfy the judgment within 30 days from the date upon which it becomes final, the Board shall suspend the operator's or chauffeur's licence issued to the person against whom the judgment is rendered and the registration of every motor-vehicle registered in his name. Judgment must be satisfied before licences are reinstated and the person so liable must give proof of financial responsibility for future motor-vehicle accidents in the amount of $11,000 for a period of three years.

The Automobile Accident Insurance Act was passed by the Legislature and placed on the Statutes during 1946 and provides collision insurance, personal injury insurance, and public liability and property damage insurance in the amounts as set forth in the said Act. Saskatchewan citizens are provided with insurance against death or personal injury resulting directly from motor-vehicle accidents. Every person is automatically provided with public liability and property damage insurance to the extent of the amount paid for personal injuries or property damage which is payable by the insurance office.

Action may be taken against the Superintendent of the Fund where a judgment for an amount exceeding $100 has been obtained following a motor-vehicle accident, if the assets of the judgment debtor are insufficient to meet the award of the court, or in cases where the driver or owner of the motor-vehicle causing the accident is unknown.
