Section 4.—Rehabilitation of Veterans

The Veterans Welfare Services Branch of the Department of Veterans Affairs is responsible for the efficient administration of benefits available to discharged members of the Forces under the terms of the Veterans' Rehabilitation Act and the War Service Grants Act. The functions of the Branch are to administer the following:—

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| (1) Out-of-work allowances.                           | (5) The War Veterans Assistance Fund.   |
| (2) Unemployment insurance contributions of veterans. | (6) Vocational and university training. |
| (3) Temporary Incapacity Allowances.                  | (7) The Veterans' Land Act.             |
| (4) Awaiting>Returns Allowances.                      | (8) War Veterans Allowances.            |

The Department also renders assistance to veterans and advises them in social problems through the Social Service Division of the Veterans Welfare Services Branch. A major function of this Division is to help the field staff apply sympathetic knowledge and skill in dealing with such problems. This is done by consultation on individual cases and by participation in formal training programs. The Department helps the veteran to make the fullest possible use of community social services in meeting his difficulties. At the same time, it does not duplicate any service which is already available to him as a citizen. For these purposes the Social Service Division maintains close liaison with other public welfare departments at all levels of government, private social agencies, community chests, and councils and schools of social work. The Division also participates in research and experimental work on welfare matters with which the Department is concerned.

Rehabilitation of Women.—The rehabilitation of women veterans has continued side by side with that of the male veterans and no particular problems have been encountered.
