

Table 7 shows the populations of counties and census divisions for the census years 1901 to 1951. In Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Ontario census counties correspond closely with the municipal counties of these Provinces. In Quebec, census counties have been subdivided to correspond as far as possible with the additional municipal counties created in this Province. For example, Charlevoix County is divided into Charlevoix East and Charlevoix West and separate figures are shown for each. The Provinces of Newfoundland, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia have been divided for statistical purposes into census divisions since they have no fixed political divisions corresponding to the counties in other provinces.
