Subsection 1.—Statistics of Public Hospitals for Acute Diseases

Movement of patients, personnel and hospital facilities for in-patients in both general and special public hospitals during 1950 are summarized in Tables 4 and 6. Comparative workload, staff per patient, etc., may be obtained from these data. The last item in Table 5, cost per patient day, where revenues and expenditures are divided into main sources and objects, respectively, provides a significant connection between patient and financial statistics.
