Subsection 1.—The Royal Canadian Navy

Organization.—Naval Headquarters at Ottawa conducts the planning and policy for administration and training of the active and reserve forces of the Royal Canadian Navy. Subject to this authority the flag officers on each coast exercise control in their respective Commands. Ships of the Royal Canadian Navy are based at the Atlantic and Pacific stations. Subsidiary units are the 21 Naval Divisions in cities across the country which serve as shore training establishments for the naval reserve.

Twenty-three major war vessels were in commission at the end of March 1952. The largest of these was a light fleet aircraft carrier of 18,000 tons. Others were two six-inch gun cruisers, five large tribal-class destroyers, three light destroyers, four frigates, four Algerine minesweepers and a newly constructed trawler-type gate vessel. In addition, 54 major war vessels were in reserve, including two escort maintenance vessels, 16 frigates and 18 Bangor minesweepers.
