Canada was the country of birth of 88·7 p.c. of the male inmates and of all but 13 of the females. In all, 272 men were born outside Canada but the majority of them (76·8 p.c.) had lived in this country for 15 years or more. Of those cases in which citizenship was known, all but 40 of the men and all the women were recorded as Canadian citizens. The men came from every province except Newfoundland while the women, with the exception of one, resided in the Maritimes and Ontario, the provinces in which the institutions for women were located.
