Destination and Occupation.—Approximately 55 p.c. of the immigrants admitted to Canada in 1954 declared that they were destined to occupations in the labour force. The other 45 p.c., who were not gainfully occupied, were wives, children, other dependants and retired persons. Of the workers 11·8 p.c. were classed as professional and managerial, 12·9 p.c. were entering agricultural occupations, 14·2 p.c. were in service occupations, 30·5 p.c. were in manufacturing, mechanical and construction trades, and 15·4 p.c. were general labourers. Almost half the gainfully occupied female immigrants were in service occupations.

Ontario absorbed 53.8 p.c. of the arrivals in 1954, Quebec 18.4 p.c., British Columbia and the Prairie Provinces 25.3 p.c. and the Atlantic Provinces 2.5 p.c.
