Parliamentary Secretaries.—As provided by the Parliamentary Secretaries Act (SC 1959, c. 15), assented to June 4, 1959, the following Parliamentary Secretaries were appointed from among the Members of the House of Commons to hold office for twelve months and to assist the respective Ministers in such manner as each Minister may direct. In so doing the Government revived the system of parliamentary assistantships in practice during the war and postwar years subsequent to 1943, whereby Cabinet Ministers might receive assistance in the performance of their parliamentary functions and promising members of the House might secure a degree of apprenticeship for higher public office. In addition to his annual indemnity as a Member of the House of Commons (see p. 99), a Parliamentary Secretary receives $4,000 per annum and is entitled to certain travelling and other expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties.
