

Canadian football title, winning Grey Cup match with Hamilton Tiger-Cats by score of 28-27. Dec. 5, Mrs. Claire Kirkland-Casgrain, Montreal lawyer, appointed Minister without Portfolio in Quebec Legislature, the first woman Cabinet minister in the history of the province. Dec. 6, Dr. Murray L. Barr, London, Ont., received from U.S. President Kennedy one of the first awards from a foundation set up in the name of the President's late brother to assist work in overcoming mental retardation, and a grant of $25,000 to further his research. Dec. 7, Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, former Canadian Ambassador and senior UN official, first recipient of the Vanier Medal of the Institute of Public Administration. Dec. 9, Tanganyika remained a member of the Commonwealth upon achieving status as a republic. Dec. 10, Progressive Conservative Government of Premier Walter R. Shaw returned to power in Prince Edward Island election. Dec. 12, Warwick Fielding Chipman, Montreal, former Canadian diplomat, presented with Italy's highest award for merit in Italian studies for his translation into English of Dante's Inferno. Dec. 14, Progressive Conservative Government of Premier Duff Roblin returned to power in Manitoba election. Dec. 18, CNR Board of Directors to study ways of attracting more French-speaking Canadians into the organization. Dec. 20, Report of the Royal Commission on Unemployment Insurance tabled in the House of Commons. Dec. 21, Prime Minister Diefenbaker arrived in the Bahamas for talks with British Prime Minister Macmillan and U.S. President Kennedy. Canada accorded recognition to the Government of the Yemen Arab Republic. Mary Stewart of Vancouver chosen Canada's outstanding female athlete of 1962 in Canadian Press poll. Other women acclaimed for outstanding achievement during the year were: Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa and Hon. Claire Kirkland-Casgrain of Montreal in public affairs; Mrs. Hugh John Flemming, founder of the international Kindness Club; Mrs. Sheila Burnford, author; Miss Kate Reid, actress; and Miss Teresa Stratas, opera singer. Dec. 22, Death of Solon Low, former national leader of the Social Credit Party. Dec. 24, Death of former Senator Thomas Farquhar of Little Current, Ont.

1963

January: Second Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, London, Ont., awarded Duke of Edinburgh trophy in a Commonwealth competition; criteria were small arms efficiency and physical standards. Exhibition of contemporary Canadian painting and graphic art sent by the National Gallery of Canada to Africa for eight-month tour. Eliza Edith Mayhew, Victoria, B.C., won first annual award of the Sir Otto Beit Medal for Sculpture offered by the Council of the Royal Society of British Sculptors. First piece of creative fiction written by an Eskimo for Eskimo children published. Jan. 1, Eastview became Ontario's 32nd city. Jan. 3, General Lauris Norstad, former Supreme Allied Commander, Europe, stated that if Canada does not accept nuclear weapons for its forces in Europe it will not meet its commitments to NATO. Jan. 7, Contracts awarded for construction of Red River floodway, the largest earth-moving job ever to be undertaken in Canada. Canada and the Republic of Mali established diplomatic relations. Jan. 10, Appointment of M. J. Coldwell, former national leader of the CCF, as Resident Fellow at Carleton University's Institute of Canadian Studies announced. Jan. 11, Fiftieth anniversary of the start of activities of the 4-H Club movement, begun with about 400 Manitoba boys and girls in 1913 and now with a national membership of more than 72,000; commemorative projects included an active part in the World Freedom from Hunger Campaign and interprovincial exchange visits. Jan. 11-12, First meeting of the Canada-Japan Ministerial Committee, established by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Prime Minister Ikeda in June 1961, held in Tokyo; discussions covered trade and economic relations. Jan. 14, Canada and the Republic of Korea (South Korea) established diplomatic relations. Jan. 18, Death of Hon. Hugh Gaitskell, British Labour Party leader. Sod-turning ceremony for Ontario Research Community—a 300-acre campus of laboratories to be built by private industry and the Ontario Research Foundation—near Toronto. Jan. 29, Britain lost 15-month struggle to enter European Common Market. Jan. 31, United States in open disagreement with Canada's nuclear weapons policy regarded by all Party leaders in the House of Commons as "unwarranted intrusion into Canadian affairs".

February: Feb. 2, Nyasaland became an independent nation within the Commonwealth after 65 years of British rule. Sod-turning ceremony for Fathers of Confederation Memorial Building took place in Charlottetown, P.E.I., Premier Stanfield of Nova Scotia officiating. Apology by U.S. State Department to Canadian Government for handling of nuclear arms controversy. Death of Chief Justice Patrick Kerwin. Feb. 4, Dr. B. G. Ballard appointed President of the National Research Council. Resignation of Defence Minister Harkness over disagreement on nuclear arms policy. Feb. 5, Very Rev. Eugene Carlisle Lebel appointed first President and Vice-Chancellor of the new non-denominational University of Windsor. Feb. 6, Dissolution of Twenty-Fifth Parliament of Canada. Feb. 7, Death of Hon. Esioff Léon Patenaude of Montreal, former Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec and senior member of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada. Feb. 9, Announcement of the World Health Organization approval of a Canadian-initiated plan for rapid dissemination through the world body of information on the dangerous side-effects of drugs. Feb. 11, Three striking loggers killed and nine others wounded in shooting involving loggers and independent bushworkers near Kapuskasing, Ont. Hon. Roland Michener named chairman of Manitoba's Royal Commission on Local Government Organization and Finance. Feb. 12, Prince Albert of Belgium, heading an economic mission, arrived in Canada for 12-day visit. Feb. 13, Death of George R. Clark, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, in Tokyo. Ontario police round up individuals involved in violence at Kapuskasing; 19 murder charges against independent woodcutters and 400 riot charges laid against striking loggers. Charter for new Brock University in Niagara Peninsula, to open in 1964, presented by Premier Robarts of Ontario. Feb. 14, Thirty-one-day strike of loggers at Kapuskasing ended, with the dispute going before an arbitration board. Feb. 16, Canadians won all four titles in the North American figure skating championships for the first time in 19 years—Donald McPherson of Stratford, Ont., men's singles; Wendy Griner of Toronto, women's singles; Debbi Wilkes and Guy Revell of Unionville, Ont., pairs; and Paulette Doan and Kenneth Ormsby of Toronto, ice dancing. Feb. 18, Justice Minister Fleming announced his retirement from public life after 25 years of service, for personal reasons. Announcement of an anonymous gift of $4,250,000 to the Canada Council to enable Canadian students to undertake advanced studies in medicine, science and engineering in Canada, the largest gift received by the Council since its establishment in 1957. Canada Council medals presented to Arthur Lismer, artist; Claude Champagne, musician; and Leonard W. Brockington, writer and scholar. Report of the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission presented to the Minister of Justice; recommendations included abolition of patents on drugs and better information for doctors about the cost of the products they prescribe. Feb. 19, Bruce Kidd of Toronto awarded the Viscount Alexander Trophy for the outstanding junior male athlete for the