Citizenship Certificates Issued.—The following statistics show the number of citizenship certificates “issued” and more detailed information on certificates “granted” in recent years. The former, in Table 3, include both certificates granted to new citizens and those issued for various reasons to persons who were already Canadian citizens. Tables 4 to 8 refer only to “grants” which means that the holder became a Canadian citizen by the grant of such certificate.

In 1962, 125,817 Canadian citizenship certificates were issued as compared with 96,191 in 1961. During 1962, the Canadian Citizenship Registration Branch recorded 5,053 certificates of registration of births abroad and 108 declarations of retention of Canadian citizenship. Corresponding figures for 1961 were 5,477 registrations of births abroad and 92 declarations of retention.
