Allowances Issuable to Canadian Forces.—The following are the most common entitlements, aside from pay, for members of the regular Forces. Other entitlements related to special duties and to the reserve Forces are not shown.

Aircrew Allowance.—Aircrew allowance in varying amounts may be paid to a member of aircrew, or an officer or man undergoing flying training to become a pilot, navigator or other member of aircrew if he is not already receiving the special rate of pay applicable to pilots or navigators.

Outfit Allowance and Clothing Upkeep Allowance.—Officers receive a single payment of $450 on appointment and Warrant Officers Class 1 receive $270. Men receive a free issue of clothing on joining and thereafter a monthly clothing upkeep allowance of $7; Navy Petty Officers 1st Class and above receive $8. Women receive a free issue of clothing on joining with an underclothing allowance of $15, and thereafter a monthly clothing allowance of $8.

Foreign Allowances.—Officers and men posted for duty to a country outside of Canada are entitled to allowances to compensate for additional living expenses or hardships incurred; these vary with rank, appointment and location.

Isolation Allowance.—Isolation allowance, at rates which depend on the specific location, are paid to personnel serving at isolated posts in Canada.

Submarine Allowance.—An officer or man undergoing submarine training or filling an appointment in a submarine receives from $32.50 to $115 a month, depending on rank.

Risk Allowance.—An officer or man actively engaged or undergoing training as a parachutist or on flying duties, and not entitled to aircrew allowance, is paid risk allowance at the rate of $30 a month.

Sea Duty Allowance.—An officer or man serving in a ship is entitled to sea duty allowance at the rate of $15 a month.
