

maintaining its contingent in Cyprus was about $3,000,000 in 1966. In addition, Canada makes voluntary contributions to special UN programs such as the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the United Nations Relief and Works Agency in the Middle East (UNRWA) and the World Food Programme (WFP).

Canada's total assessment and contributions to the UN, its Specialized Agencies and related bodies totalled approximately $240,000,000 during the period 1945-65 and about $48,000,000 in 1966. In 1966 Canada's quota (assessed share of capital) for the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Monetary Fund (IMF) was increased about $250,000,000, of which some $55,000,000 was paid during 1966. The previous subscription quota of $800,000,000 had been paid off in 1963.

Canada has been elected to a seat on the Security Council for 1967-68, having previously served in 1947-48 and 1958-59.

¹ Estimated. This figure represents the cost to Canada of maintaining its contingent in Cyprus in 1966 after reimbursement for certain expenses by the UN; it does not include salaries and similar costs that Canada would have had to pay if the personnel had remained in Canada.

² UNDP was formed by the consolidation of the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance (EPTA) and the Special Fund, according to the terms of resolution 2029 (XX) of Nov. 22, 1965.

³ Includes a special contribution of $100,000 made on Dec. 9, 1966 in memory of the children who died at Aberfan, Wales, and Dorion, Que.

⁴ Canada also contributed $6,567 as its share of the costs of the UPU English Translation Service.

⁵ Of this amount, $4,540,000 was actually paid to the IBRD; the remainder is available if required. The Canadian subscription to the IBRD now totals $856,215,150.

⁶ There was no increase in the Canadian quota in the IFC in 1966.

⁷ Of this amount, Canada paid $51,351,348 to the IMF in gold. The remainder is held by the IMF in the form of non-interest-bearing notes payable on demand in Canadian dollars. The increase brings Canada's quota in the IMF to approximately $306,000,000.
