

Canada celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of Confederation in 1967 in a year-long birthday party which included events ranging from local efforts involving a few individuals to the supremely successful Expo 67 in Montreal. This exhibition showed Canadians and the world what could be achieved through the peaceful blending of cultures in one society.

Sources

- 2.1 Archaeological Survey of Canada, National Museum of Man, National Museums of Canada.
- 2.2 - 2.4 Peter B. Waite, Professor of History, Dalhousie University, Halifax, NS, in consultation with Marc La Terreur, Université Laval, Quebec, Que.