4.3.1.6 Ontario

The government of Ontario consists of a Lieutenant-Governor, an Executive Council and a Legislative Assembly. Since his appointment effective July 4, 1968, the Honourable W. Ross Macdonald has been Lieutenant-Governor. The Legislative Assembly is composed of 117 members elected for a statutory term not to exceed five years. At the general election October 21, 1971, 78 Progressive Conservatives, 20 Liberals and 19 New Democrats were elected to the province's twenty-ninth Legislature.

In addition to the regular ministries there are the following provincial agencies: the Niagara Parks Commission, the Ontario Municipal Board, The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, the Ontario - St. Lawrence Development Commission, the Ontario Northland Transportation Commission, the Liquor Control Board, the Liquor Licence Board, the Hospital Services Commission and The Water Resources Commission.

Under the provisions of the Legislative Assembly Act (RSO 1960, c.208 as amended) each member of the Assembly is paid an annual indemnity of $12,000 and an expense allowance of $6,000. In addition, the Speaker receives a special annual indemnity of $5,000, the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole $4,000 and the Leader of the Opposition a salary of $15,000. Each member of the Cabinet having charge of a ministry receives the ordinary indemnity as a member of the Legislature in addition to his salary as a Minister of the Crown. The salary provided in the Executive Council Act for the Prime Minister is $20,000 and for a Cabinet Minister having charge of a ministry $15,000. By the 1956 amendment, Ministers of the Crown who are in charge of ministries, the Minister of the Crown who is a member of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, and the Leader of the Opposition each receives a representation allowance of $2,000 per annum. Each Minister without portfolio, other than that Minister who is a member of The Hydro-Electric Power Commission, receives $5,000 salary and $1,000 representation allowance per annum.
