NOW

Lower interest rates and improved economic conditions helped to push the number of new motor vehicles sold in 1985 up 19.2% to a record 1.5 million units, valued at $19.9 billion.

During 1984, vending machines sales increased 11.2% over the previous year with coffee machines, packaged confectionery, pastry and snack food machines, and fresh food combination machines, accounting for most of the increase.

The Canadian tourist industry includes almost 300,000 hotel and motel rooms, nearly 40,000 restaurants and food-service facilities, and about 4,500 travel agencies.

1986 was the best year for tourism in Canada since 1967, with Expo '86, a favourable currency exchange rate, and a strong federal government marketing campaign, bringing over 12.2 million foreign visitors to Canada by the end of August.
