

CABLE TELEVISION MARKET PENETRATION, 1988°

By 1954, two years after TV's debut in Canada, cable television services were set up in a few select locations across the country. By 1988, cable television had spread throughout Canada and was available to an estimated 7,969,846 households.