<sup>1</sup>According to regulations, a teacher, though holding a first class license, can draw first class pay only if he be a principal of a first class school, or a vice-principal of a school of six or more departments. All other first class teachers receive only second class pay. This arrangement lowers considerably the average salaries of teachers of the highest class.

<sup>2</sup> In the figures for Quebec lay teachers only are included.

<sup>3</sup> In Saskatchewan only elementary school teachers are included.
