

$33,000,000 for disabled persons allowances and nearly $200,000,000 for unemployment assistance, the latter figure including some municipal expenditure. Workmen's Compensation Boards spent $94,000,000 on cash benefits for pensions and compensation and the provincial governments about $48,000,000 on mothers' allowances.

Welfare services for Indians and for veterans and the national employment service accounted for $36,000,000 at the federal level while child welfare services required an expenditure of almost $34,000,000 by provincial governments.

In the field of health, federal grants to the provinces under the Hospital Insurance and Diagnostic Services Act totalled $284,000,000 and grants for hospital construction and general health grants to the provinces and municipalities amounted to $49,000,000. The Federal Government spent $24,000,000 on the Indian and Northern Health Service and $47,000,000 on hospital and treatment services for veterans. Provincial expenditures on hospital care amounted to an estimated $524,000,000 and $60,000,000 was spent on other health services. Workmen's Compensation Boards paid $38,000,000 for medical aid and hospitalization. Municipal governments spent $65,000,000 on health.

Altogether, these items accounted for expenditures of $3,500,000,000 in the year ended Mar. 31, 1962.