<sup>1</sup> Total population not always residing in the province in which residing on the census date, June 2, 1941.

The above table presents the movement of Canadian population in broad outline only: it gives the movement for Canada as a country only, under the sub-heading (interprovincial movement), that is the movement within Canada itself, and the movement from outside Canada. Thus within Canada 16,208 individuals (8,532 males and 7,676 females) at the time of the Census in 1941 reported Prince Edward Island as their province of last residence: at some time before that census they had moved from Prince Edward Island to another part of Canada. Taking into account the movements to and from each of the other provinces, the total interprovincial movement was 1,308,944.
