

University of Calgary, University of British Columbia, and the University of Victoria. Twelve universities offer a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Fine Arts: Université de Moncton, McGill University, Sir George Williams University, University of Ottawa, University of Toronto, York University, McMaster University, University of Guelph, University of Western Ontario, University of Windsor, University of Saskatchewan, and the University of British Columbia.

There are many colleges and schools of art with varying academic requirements for admission. These offer diploma or certificate courses and are concerned largely with the technical development of the artist. Among those widely known are Halifax — Nova Scotia College of Art; Quebec City — École des Beaux-Arts; Montreal — École des Beaux-Arts, Institut des Arts Appliqués, School of Art and Design of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts; Toronto — Humber College of Applied Arts and Technology, Ontario College of Art, Artists' Workshop, Hockley Valley School, The New School of Art; Brampton — Sheridan College of Applied Arts and Technology; Kitchener — Doon School of Fine Arts; Winnipeg — University of Manitoba School of Art; Regina — School of Art, Regina Campus, University of Saskatchewan; Banff — Banff School of Fine Arts; Calgary — Alberta College of Art, Southern Alberta Institute of Technology; Nelson — Kootenay School of Art; Vancouver — Capilano College, Vancouver School of Art; Victoria — University of Victoria.

Courses vary in length with the requirements of the individual student but may extend over as many as four years. In some of these schools fine crafts as well as fine arts are taught. Summer schools of art are sponsored by some of the foregoing institutions, by universities and by various independent groups. One of the more important summer schools is the Banff School of Fine Arts, affiliated with the University of Calgary.

Public art galleries in the principal cities perform valuable educational services among adults and children. Children's Saturday classes, conducted tours for school pupils and adults, radio talks, lectures and concerts are features of the programs of the various galleries. Many of these institutions supply travelling exhibitions for their surrounding areas or range even farther afield. Several organizations such as the Maritime Art Association, the Atlantic Provinces Art Circuit, the Western Canada Art Circuit, the Art Institute of Ontario, the Art Gallery of Ontario and the new Fédération des centres culturels du Québec have been founded to carry out this sort of travelling program on a regional basis. On a smaller scale, art circuits are organized to serve certain areas such as those around St. John's Nfld., Charlottetown, PEI, Trois-Rivières and Hull, Que., and Winnipeg, Man. The National Gallery of Canada conducts a nation-wide program of this nature and is one of the largest art-circulating agencies in North America. Several galleries maintain an art-rental service.
