<sup>1</sup> The population (98,967) in territory now comprised in the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and in the Yukon and Northwest Territories was classified as rural in the Census of 1891. <sup>2</sup> Volume 1, Census 1911, places the urban population of Alberta for that year at 141,937. Included in this figure was the population (5,250) of twelve places which, according to the Report of the Municipal Commissioner for Alberta, were not then incorporated. The places so included were Aetna, Bankhead, Bellevue, Bickerdike, Canmore, Cardiff, Exshaw, Hillcrest, Passburg, Queenston and Elmpark. The correction resulting from this and from other small adjustments consequent upon more definite knowledge as to incorporated areas, places the urban population for 1911 at 137,662. Similar corrections have been made in the urban and rural figures for the Census of 1901. <sup>3</sup> As corrected in Census Report, Prairie Provinces, 1916. <sup>4</sup> As changed by Extension of Boundaries Act, 1912. <sup>5</sup> Corrected by information received since Bulletin 1 was printed, which transferred population of Shediac and Hampton to urban column and population of Salisbury to rural. <sup>6</sup> Corrected by information received since Bulletin 2 was printed, giving Clark's Harbour as an incorporated town. <sup>7</sup> As changed by Extension of Boundaries Act, 1912. <sup>8</sup> The urban population of 970,791 shown in Volume 1, Census 1911, is reduced to 966,842 by the transfer of the population of Maniwaki, Martinville, Moisie, St. Bruno, St. Martin and St. Vincent de Paul from urban to rural; by adjustments in area of the villages of Ste. Anne and Ste. Genevieve; and Extension of Boundaries Act, 1912. <sup>9</sup> Urban and rural population for 1911 and 1901 are as corrected in Census Report, Prairie Provinces, 1916. <sup>10</sup> As reduced by Extension of Boundaries Act, 1912.
