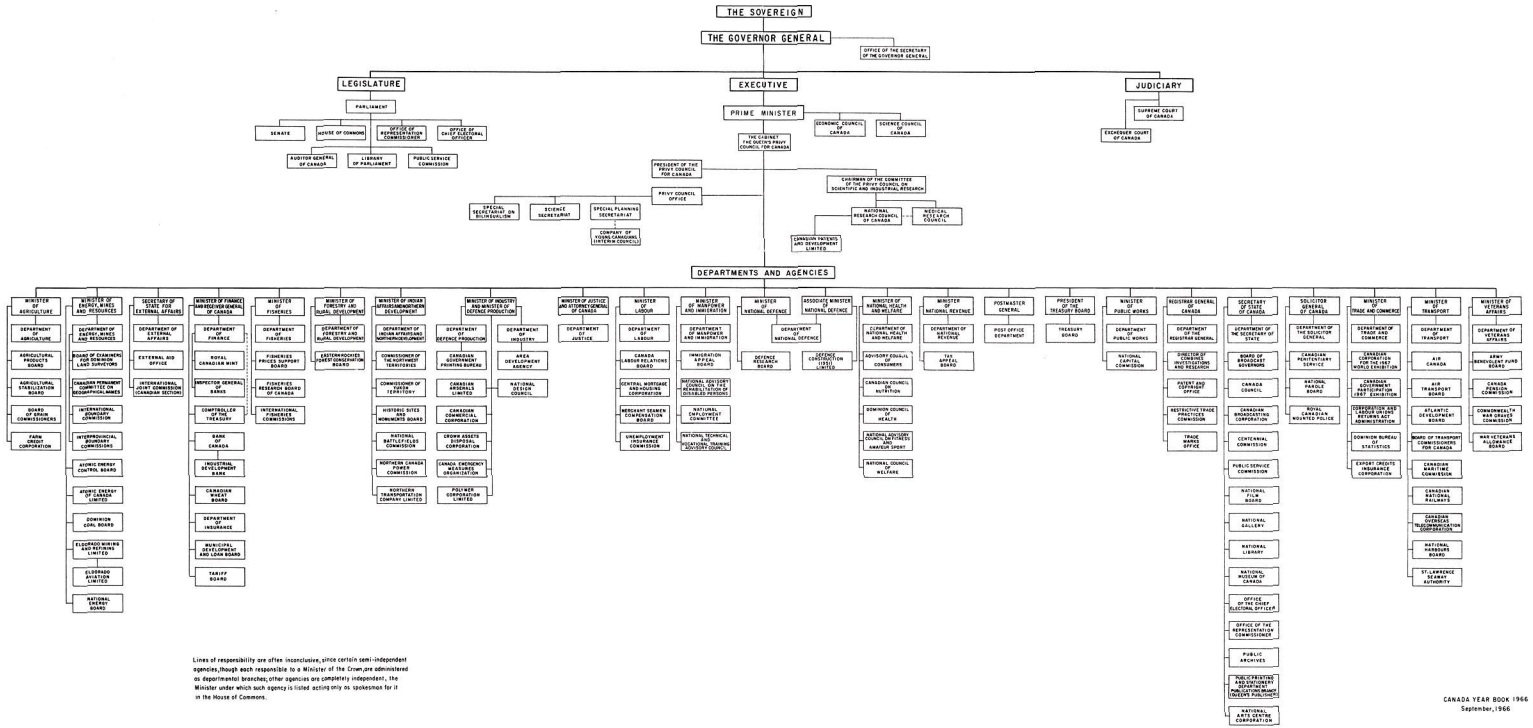
THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA



Lines of responsibility are often inconclusive, since certain semi-independent agencies, though each responsible to a Minister of the Crown, are administered as departmental branches; other agencies are completely independent, the Minister under which such agency is listed acting only as spokesman for it in the House of Commons.

CANADA YEAR BOOK 1966
September, 1966